WILLIAM P. WEAVER,

The Well Known New Hayen Agent of the Columbia Bicycle.

[From the American Cyclist.] William P. Weaver is the well known Columbia agent at New Haven, Coan. He is one of the old time siders who of the old bone shaker of more than twenty years ago. He was born at New Bedford, Mass., January 5, 1857, hegan business as a telegraph mes senger and gradually worked his way up until he was recognized as one of the expert operators of the country. After working some of the heavy commercial and press wires in the Bostone office of the Western Union company he became night manager of the Bostor office of the Atlantic & Pacific Telegraph company. In 1877, when the business of the Associated Press became so heavy that private wires and private operators became necessary, Weaver was sent to New Haven, Conn. where besides being one of the pio-neers to use the type writer in copying press reports direct from the wire, he also had charge of the Associated Press corvespondence for that section of the state. Besides his regular telegraphic and Associated Press corre spondence he, for a number of years, was a regular correspondent for the Boston Globe and Herald.

He learned to ride on the early bon shakers, rode in a number of indoor races and did a little trick riding-such as it was those days.

In 1800 he became tired of the con-finement of telegraphic and newspaper work and became interested in the bicycle trade. He established friendly relations with the Pope Manufacturing company and secured the agency for the Columbia line of wheels. Since that date he has established his business on a solid and well defined policy and is now looked upon as one of th Pope company's reliable and trust-worthy agents. He has built up a steady and increasing trade, and occupies two adjoining stores on tSate street, New Haven, where in his well equipped repair shop he keeps four men at work during the busy season.

Letters From the People. To the Editor of the JOURNAL AND COURIER: New Haven, April 26.

Your correspondent in this morning's "Courier" has expressed the thought of a great many people concerning the proposed establishment of the Calvary Baptist Industrial Home on Chapel street. It must be practically a lodging house and headquarters for tramps as it has been already in Crown street. To put the lodging house in the proposed place is very objectionable to a large number of people whose homes and churches are in that weighborhood. No one wishes to say anything that is disrespectful of the church or the people who have the scheme of the lodging house at heart. But the people who have been stopped evening after evening with the appeal of the strong, able bodied tramp, for the price of a night's lodging, do not desire the evil increased and made permanent. If greater hospitality is to be shown to vagrants in New Haven, and they are to be encouraged to come and stay with us, and prey apon us, let the house be opened where at will not offend quiet citizens, and injure property less.

It is a very serious matter for those who wish to keep their homes east of State street and who wish Chapel street to remain a thoroughfare along which ladies and young persons can safely go through the day and in the early evening. If any influence can be brought, in a proper way, to induce the Calvary Baptist people to place the lodging house apart from the homes of quiet people it will be a great rehief to dwellers in THE NEW TOWNSHIP.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND.

has followed the sport from the days of the old hone shaker of more than It Makes People Well.

There is one true specific for diseases arising from a debilitated nervous system, and that is Paine's celery compound, so generally prescribed by physicians. It is probably the most remarkable remedy that the scientific research of this country has produced. Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college first prescribed what is now known the world over as Paine's celery comcollege first prescribed what is now known the world over as rathe's celery compound, a positive cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, liver complaint, neuralgia, rheurantism, all nervous diseases and kidney troubles. For the latter, Paine's celery compound has succeeded again and again where everything else has failed. The medical journals of this country have given more space in the last few years to the many remarkable cases where the use of Paine's celery compound has made people well than to any other one subject.
